

Upcoming Events

- Friday, June 9, join us in San Francisco, along with Ennis Olson, Head of Innovation for Google's food program, serving 300,000 meals a day across the globe.
- Monday, June 12, we'll be gathering in Seattle along with Allen Webb, Managing Director of Thought Leadership at PwC, to discuss the business applications and opportunities for applying emerging AI and GPT technologies – and how large firms are experimenting to deliver more value to customers and re-think staffing.
- Wednesday, June 28, join us in New York City for a deep dive into the technology-driven shifts in the insurance and media sectors – and the prospects for fundamental business-model changes as a new wave of enterprise technologies mature.
- Friday, June 30, join us in Washington DC as we gather to for a look at how large organizations are changing – and failing to change as they should – because of data-driven shifts in value creation.
